Altman: "We're still under a moratorium"

'Belle Glade sewer system still doesn't measure up' says county

Palm Beach County Health Dept. Engineer Umesh Asrani has recommended that the Belle Glade sewer treatment plant be awarded another temporary operating permit.

"The Department of Environmental Regulation, state agency, makes the final decision on issuing permits," the engineer said, "but they usually go along with the local agency's recommendations."

Mayor Grear said "We're looking forward to an operating permit, but his recommendation sounds like what we're operating under now."

The plant is not getting the proper degree of treatment, according to Asrani. It is short 10%. To receive a full operating permit, there must be 90% treatment, but tests conducted by environmental officials showed only 80% treatment.

Commissioner Tom Altman explained that raw sewage is measured when the content goes in and when it comes out of the plant. Ninety percent removal of BOD (chemical waste) should be accomplished before the sewage leaves the plant.

"The plant is operating better than ever before," Asrani said, and "as soon as the facility reaches the proper degree of treatment it would be issued an operating permit."

At one time, discharge was flowing into the Hillsboro Canal, but that condition has been alleviated. The city has made major modifications to improve plant conditions, he said, and he hopes the plant will soon get an operating permit.

A major problem with the sewage system in Belle Glade, according to Altman, is that some of the sewer lines throughout the city are cracked, allowing ground water to seep into the raw sewage.

This adds to the volume at the plant and makes it more difficult to remove BOD.

With a temporary permit, there is a specific compliance schedule that has to be followed. As long as the plant follows that schedule and gets things done on time, there are no problems.

According to Asrani, the city is not on a moratorium now and will not be if this temporary permit is issued. But, as Altman said, "when you're not allowing sewage connections, you are, in effect, getting a moratorium."

The city was granted 200 ERC's (Equivalent Residential Connections) under the existing temporary permit. In a short time these will be used up, so that makes it more important that a new permit be issued soon.

Three qualify for city commission seats

Thomas Altman, David Day and Roe Steele have qualified as candidates for city commissioners of Belle Glade.

Altman, of 207 N.E. First St. in Belle Glade, age 24, is running in Group 1. He is a graduate of Florida State University where he majored in Government and minored in History.

With almost two years of experience as Director of Community Development in Belle Glade, Altman resigned to run for city commissioner two years ago.

At age 22, he was elected to office as the youngest city commissioner.

David Day, of 224 N.W. 13th St. in Belle Glade, qualified the first day along with Altman. At age 36, he is Security Supervisor at Seminole Sugar Corporation in Belle Glade and has held that position for one year.

Day is a former Sheriff's Deputy who served over ten years in Palm Beach County, in the Glades. He resigned three years ago as Lieutenant at the Glades Sub Station.

Roe Steele of 901 S.E.

Third St. in Belle Glade, age 60, qualified Tuesday in Group 2 where he will be running against Ralph Kirk.

Steele came to Belle Glade in 1951 when he had a sod and cattle ranch. He has lived in Belle Glade since then, for 25 years, and now owns Roe Steele Construction Co. where he is a building contractor.

Steele is a member of several organizations. He is President of the Civitan Club and member of the Elk's Lodge, Masonic and the Shrines.

Commissioner Tom Altman and City Clerk June Boglioli review qualifications papers.

Mrs. Keen is a candidate for commission

Mrs. Florence Keen, 156 N. Flame Ave., Pahokee, announced Monday that she is a candidate for the County Commission seat being vacated by E. W. (Bud) Weaver of Lake Harbor.

Mrs. Keen is a Glades pioneer moving from Clewiston to Pahokee in the 1940's. In 1945 she organized and operated the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce. Her husband, Manning, owned an oil distributorship in the Glades for many years.

Currently, she is involved in real estate with offices in Pahokee and several locations on the east coast. She has been in business in the Glades for the past thirty-five years.

Mrs. Keen brings a long list of qualifications with her into the campaign. She is a member of the Rules Committee of the National Democratic Party, a member of Zonta, an international all business women's organization and was the first woman to ever qualify for the office of Lt. Governor when she ran in 1974 with gubernatorial candidate Norman Bie.

In spite of her extremely busy schedule, she is a dedicated wife and mother. She is seldom seen in the evening without her husband and often her son Richard and his wife Linda drive over from Pahokee to make dinner a bourgeois. Richard heads the Keen Development Co. offices in Pahokee.

"One thing is sure," an associate confided. "If Florence gets involved, she gives it all she's got."

Knoblock hired by city as consultant

Former city manager George Knoblock has been hired temporarily on a consultant basis. The contract drawn up by city attorney John Baker was agreed upon by the city commissioners and Knoblock at a special session Thursday night.

Mayor William Grear said Knoblock will work as a consultant when requested by Acting City Manager Frank Anderson. He will be working on eight projects, one being the sewer plant operating permit.

Travel expenses from Knoblock's home in New Port Richey to Belle Glade will not be paid by the city, but expenses incurred while traveling from Belle Glade elsewhere will be.

Knoblock will be paid an hourly wage and will retain his consultant position until a new city manager is hired.

FHA approval sought for financing water plant in South Bay

Complaints were voiced by several people at Tuesday night's South Bay City Commission meeting.

The first was made by Ned Hill who felt the city was holding closed meetings because the minutes were not detailed enough. But city Clerk Virginia Walker, backed up by Judge Allan Everard, explained that the minutes are only a summary of what is said during the meetings. However, anyone is welcome to listen to the tape, where verbatim minutes are recorded.

City Manager Grigsby reported that he would be in conference with the County Supervisor of FHA, along with South Bay Mayor J. S. Smith, yesterday, to discuss and hopefully receive, eligibility approval for FHA financing on their water plant application.

In discussing the Community Development Program, Grigsby said, "The engineers are getting the bid packages ready so we can advertise for bids." The money received from the government ($85,000) must either be spent or in cumber (set aside) by the deadline of each year, which is Sept. 30.

This is a six year program with one year contingent on the previous year's spending. Money not spent or in cumber cannot be carried over to the next year's budget.

Grigsby introduced a proposal for building a new city hall in the next year or so as their next priority.

George Swartz of Gulf Insurance Co., and his associate, questioned the withdrawal of funds set aside for a South Bay pension plan that was developed by the company.

Grigsby stated, "I cancelled the program and the funds are in escrow. The city cannot afford it." He further added, "I don't appreciate you coming here without notifying me first. It is a bad policy on your part to sell them such a plan."

Swartz apologized for attending without Grigsby's knowledge and said the program had been put into effect after two public meetings. He said they were interested in the employees and in doing what the city wanted. "I am here in an atmosphere of cooperation," Swartz said, "not to shove something down your throat you don't want."

He noted there were stipulations for termination that had not been followed and that the pension still formally exists. The problem with the pension, both agreed, is that it is a good program for a few people, but the cost gets considerably higher when additional employees join the program.

Swartz agreed to present a proposal to Grigsby and discuss it with him who, in turn, would submit the proposal to the commission.

A resolution was passed to have the Florida Legislature enact legislation reserving an area (Section 11) for future annexation to the city of South Bay.

At this point, Ned Hill suggested that a person from the community be appointed to handle such matters, by appointing a lobbyist to represent the community in Tallahassee.

Rosetta King, a citizen of South Bay, complained that her water bill had been raised without notification. Grigsby said the bills have only been raised once and that was advertised. Virginia Walker explained that some people were getting two bills this month and one bill would be higher than the other because there would be more days accounted for.

Commissioner O'Neal Walker set up a South Bay recreation committee of six members. The Commission moved to accept the committee with the option for later amendments so that action could be initiated. Cox said she was for the plan 100% but she did not wish to vote on it at the time.

The committee is composed of: Bob Lee, Chairman, Frank Teets, Co-Chairman, Esther Walker, Al Goodbread, Charles Sheely and Lexi Chiles.

Cox said she was glad to see people new ready to give their time to recreation in South Bay for she has been trying to get a recreation program going since getting on the commission.

Out of session, Rosetta King voiced her objection to the program being put into effect now, in an election year, when "Cox has been trying to get a recreation program started for about four years now and was turned down by some of those same committee members."

Sewing workshop for kids

The Cooperative Extension Service Office is sponsoring a "Quick Sewing Workshop" for children ages 7 and 8 with their mothers.

A series of five lessons will be conducted Monday through Friday, August 2 through August 6. Mrs. Claudia McMaster, Home Economics Assistant Agent, will teach the lessons from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Northeast County Complex, 3188 PGA Blvd in Palm Beach Gardens.

Mrs. Arlen C. Jones.

Extension Home Economics Agent-Program Leader, said the program will introduce the use of the sewing machine and principals of basic clothing construction to young children.

Mothers will be assigned to assist a sewing group. After the agent has demonstrated to all the class the technique to follow for each quickie project.

Pre-registration is required. Anyone may register by calling Mrs. McMaster at 983-1207.

Three qualify for commission seats in S. Bay

Three people have qualified for commission seats in the upcoming South Bay election. They are Vernita Cox, Charlie Reese and Thomas P. Adams.

Vernita Cox, age 44, is presently a South Bay Commissioner, and is seeking reelection to Group 1. She is employed as Nursing Director at the Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in South Bay and resides at 135 N.W. 11th Street in South Bay.

Charlie Reese of 110 S.W. 16th St., South Bay, is running in Group 3 against O'Neal Walker who will possibly be up for reelection.

Reese is a 1972 graduate of Tennessee State University where he majored in Sociology. He recently received his Master's degree in Administration Supervision from Florida Atlantic University.

He is employed as a drug specialist at the Camp Alcoholic Rehabilitation Center in South Bay and has been a resident of South Bay for two and a half years. He is originally from Memphis, Tenn. and is 26 years old.

Reese wants to reorganize the whole commission and department heads. He feels the commissioners who are elected should be doing more and that now the "city manager is running everything."

Thomas P. Adams, age 20, is a life-long resident of South Bay. He graduated from Glades Central High School in 1973 and is presently attending F.S.U.C. as an evening student. He plans to receive an Associate of Science degree in General Education and then continue his education at a larger institution, preferably the field of Social Work.

Adams, like Reese, wants to reorganize the commission and to get the young people involved and aware of their government. He will be running in Group 2 against present commissioner Donald Tanner.

Sheriff seeks re-election

Palm Beach County Sheriff William R. Heidman, on July 12, filed for reelection to his third full term of office as the chief law enforcement officer of the county.

Citing the progress and recognition he and the Sheriff's Office have received under his direction since 1967, Sheriff Heidman said he desired to continue his program of law enforcement leadership.

In discussing the position of Sheriff, Heidman said he is required to wear many hats. "In addition to the problems of law enforcement the Sheriff must be an administrator who can handle problems involving multi-million dollar budgets, negotiations with federal agencies, computerized systems, purchasing a myriad of items, from sophisticated communications equipment to tires, and solving complex personnel problems," the Sheriff said.

Under his leadership, Sheriff Heidman said, his office has matured from a "small town force" of about 125 to a well-trained, educated and internationally recognized professional organization of more than 550 personnel.

Accompanying the personnel growth has been a comparable transition in police science equipment and procedures, including the county's first medical evacuation helicopter which has been credited with saving more than 400 lives.

Last Spring, Sheriff Heidman was honored with the prestigious Law Enforcement Commendation Medal of the National Society of the Sons of American Revolution, an organization of more than 20,000 members.

One of the few persons to receive this coveted award, Sheriff Heidman joins the ranks of fellow recipients such as the late J. Edgar Hoover, Clarence Kelley, director of the F.B.I., Los Angeles County Sheriff Peter Pitchess, and Michael Todd, New York City Police Commissioner.

The 23,000 member National Sheriff's Association also recognized Sheriff Heidman as the National Lawman of the Year in 1968.

Fred John to step down

Fred John of Belle Glade is one of three Palm Beach Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors whose board seats will be vacant in the Sept. 28th election.

John, who has served as a supervisor for 3 years, was elected to that position in the last special election in March, 1973, to replace someone who had resigned. All vacancies are now filled by appointment.

The main reason for choosing not to run again, John said, is for health reasons. By doctor's orders, he was told to give up some outside activities.

Another reason for not running again is that supervisor's this year will have to go through the same procedures for election to office as the county commissioners do. "For a non-paying job," John said "I am not going through that procedure."

That procedure includes, appointing a treasurer, and filing reports with the state just as a politician would. The 5 supervisory positions are filled by volunteer workers who seek office by election.

Persons interested can become candidates by submitting a nominating petition available through their local supervisor of elections.

The other 2 board vacancies are those of Carol Byrd Rist (who was recently appointed to fill the unexpired term of Robert Blukely, Ft. Lauderdale), and Edward M. Hogeneboler who will both run again, for their seats.

A Soil and Water Conservation District is a local subdivision of the State Government. The purpose of Districts is to provide for local self-government in the conservation of matured resources or predominantly privately owned lands. People voluntarily organize Districts by petition and referendum.

Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner appoints a five-member Soil and Water Conservation Council to advise him on matters pertaining to Florida's soil and water conservation program.

Pot Likker

by R-D Santee

Many people of political stature have expressed their dismay over the fact that Candidate Carter has not addressed himself to "the issues" or made many campaign promises.

Now, this may be an area of concern to some, but to me this is just what I want in a politician.

It reminds me of a candidate for state senate back in the forties by the name of Holland Hoxley.

Holland never made a campaign promise. He was a man of integrity. He knew that his accomplishments depended on the capricious whims of dozens of other state senators.

Therefore, when asked what he would do for his constituents he would reply "work hard". (He was a man of few words). So, the party powers, his own party, began to attack Holland. "You're not promising them anything" they would say "you can't win an election without committing yourself to some issues" they argued.

Well, old Holland stood fast. He refused to take a stand on whether or not to pass a law that would have said it was unlawful to mark hogs ears because it wasn't humane. He shrugged his shoulders when asked his position on what color the license plates should be for the next two years. He refused to promise that the poor would have a "chicken in every chinnery tree and a good dog under every porch."

He merely said "I will do my best."

Now, back home that meant a lot. So we elected him. A year or so later, we discovered that Holland had never shown up in Tallahassee.

That didn't bother us though. Holland had never promised that if elected he'd show up either. I like a man that doesn't make promises he can't keep.

Dateline History

by Jerome Turk & Wm. D. Ellis

NEW YORK, July 19, 1776-A war of words is developing here where Gen'l George Washington has been momentarily expecting a massive attack by one of the greatest armadas assembled so far in this century—more than 130 British ships & more than 9,000 Regulars already in New York harbour.

A letter was today refused acceptance & returned unopened for the second time because of the way it was addressed. The envelope read "George Washington, Esquire, & ca., & ca."

Admiral Lord Richard Howe, commander of the British Navy here & one of the king's Peace Commissioners, had sent the letter. Another Peace Commissioner is Maj. Gen'l Sir William Howe, the admiral's brother & commander of the British invasion army, which is expected soon to be reinforced by thousands of Hessian mercenaries.

The et ceteras following Washington's name on the envelope represented a clumsy attempt by Lord Howe to indicate the proper rank of the American commander in chief without saying so. As the king's representative, Howe obviously cannot recognize the new United States of America & their military commander at this time.

Howe obviously cannot get a letter delivered, either.

The incident actually began two afternoons ago when a British Naval officer under a flag of truce came up the harbour in a small boat from H.M.S. Eagle, Howe's flagship. He was met by American boatmen who stopped him & passed word of his arrival to Gen'l Washington's headquarters.

Adjutant Gen'l Joseph Reed was directed to go to meet the officer aboard the small boat. At the confrontation, Howe's messenger, Lt. Philip Brown, said, "I have a letter, sir, from Lord Howe to Mr. Washington."

Reed replied that he knew of no person in the army with that title.

"Sir, will you look at the address?" pleaded Brown. Reed looked but would not touch the envelope. It read: "George Washington, Esp."

"No, I cannot receive that letter," Reed said finally.

The British officer saluted & signaled his carmen away but then came about abruptly & most civilly asked by what title Washington chose to be addressed.

"You are sensible, sir, of the rank of Gen'l Washington in our Army."

"Yes, sir, we are. I am sure Lord Howe will lament exceedingly this affair, as the letter is quite civil & not a military one. He laments he was not here a little sooner."

Admiral Howe arrived with a large fleet of ships from England which dropped anchor here four days ago—but that was nearly two weeks after the Declaration of Independence at Philadelphia.

Dear Sir:

I request you to publish my letter:

Genocide

The National Republican Ethnic Groups Council, which represents over thirty ethnic groups, met in Washington, D.C. recently. This council asked for the investigation of genocide committed by the authorities of the Soviet Union in the once-independent Baltic States—Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia.

U.S. citizens of Eastern European descent strongly believe that the Secretary of State, Henry Kissinger, should show at least the same zeal and interest in condemning the Russian colonial rule in those three Baltic States and the illegal Communist minority regimes in Poland, Hungary, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, and other Eastern European countries, which he has showed committed recently the United States to the destruction of the white minority regime in Rhodesia.

It is gratifying to see that another person with a background deeply rooted in the Glades has qualified to run for the District Five County Commission seat.

We now have two candidates, Republican Bill Bailey and Democrat, Florence Keen, both of whom have deep roots in this area.

Frankly, it scares us to death to think that we may have a representative of this area who has no background of association with us. It is unfortunate that, even though we now have people whose qualifications of political expertise and empathy for the Glades running to represent us, there is still the chance that the voters on the East Coast can out gun us and possibly elect someone the people of this area may not want.

The two Glades candidates have strong support on the coast and we can only hope that when the cheering has stopped one of them will be the duly elected Commissioner in District Five.

Griping gets us nowhere

Show me an alternative.

There's been a considerable controversy about the prospects about hiring former Belle Glade City Manager George Knoblock as a part-time consultant to ramrod eight city projects between now and the time the city commission hires a new city manager.

Or rather, not so much controversy as criticism. Because while there's been a number of people around town who've come up with the statement keeping Knoblock on as a consultant is a bad idea, no one has come up with another way of making sure the city's projects get completed.

There's been criticism about Knoblock's wages, and we'll be the first to agree that $11.78 an hour isn't chickenfeed. But then one has to remember that the lowest wage on a list of proposed wages the city would've paid to an engineering firm to handle part of one of those eight projects was for clerk typist I.

That wage was $12 an hour. There was criticism about the city paying Knoblock wages and 14 cents a mile for travel pay between Pasco County and Belle Glade.

He won't be.

There was criticism that any city employee ought to be a resident of the city.

While he was an employee, Knoblock was a resident of the city. On a consultant basis, however, he won't be an employee. He'll be an individual contractor. Damn few of the city's other contractors have offices anywhere around the city.

But most important, while there has been criticism about the whole idea, nobody has come up with an alternative plan.

Miss Woodham wed in double ring ceremony

Miss Susan Diane Woodham became the bride of Chet Wade Wells on June 26 in a double ring ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade with the Rev. Ray Stedham officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodham of 166 N.E. Third St. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wells Jr. of 201 S.E. Sixth St. North. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Arthur Wells Jr. served his son as best man and Yolanda Moring, a cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor.

Bruce Wells of Pahokee and Art Wells of Fort Myers, both brothers of the groom, and Greg Woodham, brother of the bride, of Belle Glade were ushers. A 14-tier candelabra backed with palms centered the decorations at the church. There were also two large baskets of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and roses.

The musical program was provided by Pat Stedham, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride wore a gown of empire design of minon polyester and applied with Alecon lace and seed pearls. The Jewel neckline was adorned with full bishop sleeves finished with long fitted Alecon lace appliques. A fitted bodice adorned the gown with clusters of Alecon lace at the neckline. The skirt was A-line with a short train trimmed with Alecon lace. Her fingertip veil of white fitted Alecon lace applied with matching lace and a matching caplet accented with Alecon lace. A blusher veil complemented the ensemble.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations, baby's breath and Spiergon fern. The maid of honor wore a gown fashioned in an empire design of blue and beige floral print of voile. The sleeves were bishop as the bride trimmed in blue lace. The dress had a full tiered skirt. She carried a round bouquet of white carnations and baby's breath.

The bride's mother wore a floor length light blue knit dress with matching chiffon cape trimmed with jewel neckline. She wore a white carnation corsage with white bow.

The groom's mother wore a floor length yellow gown with matching jeweled Bolero, along with a white carnation corsage with a white bow.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the social hall at the First Baptist Church with Lois Sasser, Peggy Smith and Mrs. Ruth McDonald acting as assistants.

The bride's pink three-tier cake was decorated with roses and a miniature bride and groom. The bride and groom. The bride's table was centered with the cake. On either side were long candles and a large punch bowl at one end.

Out of town guests arrived from Alabama, West Palm Beach, Indiantown, Fort Myers and Orlando.

The couple took a wedding trip to Miami and Key West. The bride wore green pants and a matching floral print blouse. Their new residence is Sky Vista Apartments in Homestead. The bride is a 1976 graduate of Christian Day School. The groom is a 1975 graduate of Glades Central High School and is now serving at Homestead Air Force Base in the U.S. Air Force.

Some of the folks who happened to watch one of our women's softball games last Thursday evening at the ballpark in Canal Point sure got a few bellylaughs.

It was the second game of the evening and Wallis Pharmacy was being plagued by Dixie Fried Chicken, the newest team in the league. Although Dixie Fried Chicken only had nine players, they were giving us some problems (to say the least) and held on to a seven to five lead for two and a half innings until we edged ahead by one run in the bottom of the third.

The fourth inning was a

Service News

SEMBACH, Germany—U.S. Air Force Lieutenant Colonel Edwin R. Maxson, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Maxson of Canal Point, has received his second award of the Meritorious Service Medal at Sembach AB, Germany.

Col. Maxson was cited for outstanding duty performance as operation officer and commander of the 23rd Tactical Air Support Squadron at Nakhon Phanom Royal Thai AFB, Thailand. The colonel now serves at Sembach with the 17th Air Force as chief of the tactical control division, a part of the U.S. Air Forces in Europe. Aeronautically rated as a command pilot, Col. Maxson is a veteran of 21 years service.

A 1951 graduate of Desha Central High School in Rohwer, Ark., he received his B.S. degree from the University of Arkansas where he was commission in 1955 through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. Colonel Maxson's wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Middleton of Jacksonville, Ark.

BILOXI, Miss.—Airman Chet W. Wells, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Wells of 201 S.E. Sixth St. in Belle Glade, has graduated at Keesler AFB, Miss., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for space control and warning systems operators. Airman Wells, who learned to operate electronic consoles used in space tracking and control systems, is being assigned to Homestead AFB, Fla. for duty with a Unit of the Aerospace Defense Command. Completion of the course enables the airman to receive academic credits through the Community College of the Air Force. Airman Wells is a 1975 graduate of Glades Central High School.

standoff as we squared ourselves against each other and then Wallis blew the lid off the pot in the fifth with 11 runs scoring. By this time our coach was looking at us rather meanly and I'm sure thoughts were streaking through her head about how long and hard our next practice would be. Apparently, this scared some of the players and we had girls trying every which way to score.

One of our players, Doris Velez, found the ingenious way to get to homeplate when she rounded third. Now we know you did this on purpose, Doris, just to take them on and win a better way to confuse someone than to begin sliding when you're only halfway to homeplate? Of course, this mixes the catcher up and she lets the ball go past her, upon which the pitcher, whom we assume is backing up the catcher, goes after the ball. Meanwhile, here is the runner sprawled on the ground and the catcher is straddling the baseline between her and the plate.

So what do you do? Of course! You duck between the catcher's legs and scramble to homeplate before the tag. Ingenious! As if Doris' antics weren't enough, Julie "Congo" Koray had to show everyone how to fall after rounding third base and then desperately crawling as fast as you can back to the base before the third baseman can get the ball and tag you out. No wonder we got so many runs, we had the other team laughing so hard they couldn't field the ball. Yep, we've had some interesting experiences with baserunners—one of our players actually fell halfway between third base and homeplate and frantically crawled all the way to the plate, where she did a bellyflop on top of the plate and got there safe. And then there's the time two baserunners got confused and both ran full speed towards second base, at which the second baseman for the defensive team is also headed. Somehow, they all three got there at the same time and collided—all of them thrown for a loop. That didn't happen to our players, although it is a true story.

Right now I can't think of any more instances. How about you other teams? Have you had any plays similar to these? Just let me know and I'll be glad to print them.

Before I forget, there's a new name on our team although she's not a new member. Our leftfielder, a permanent fixture on Wallis (I hope), changed her last name to Hartzog last Friday night when she wed Tom Hartzog from Pahoece.

We can no longer call "Barbara" the "hole" now in the lineup. That's a shame—it does have a nice ring to it. Now it's "Hartzog in the hole." Jimm, that's not too bad. Well, that's to work on something for her. Anyway, on behalf of the entire team, congratulations Barbara and Tom—May happiness be with you always.

Seven run fifth boosts A.Duda to win

by Karen Hansford
A. Duda and Sons posted a seven-run comeback in the fifth inning to overtake Dixie Fried Chicken nine to eight in women's softball league action Tuesday evening, July 13, at the Belle Glade Little League Jaycee ballpark.

Dixie Fried Chicken led off in the first inning when Jenny Hall hit a triple and then scored on Celia Echave's hit for the only run of the inning. Diane Duda and Sherry Miller came back with two runs for Duda in the top of the second inning but it was a short-lived lead as Dixie Fried Chicken players Maggie Mooney, Brenda Cowart and Debbie Leed got on base on a single and walks, then Jenny Hall made her second multi-base hit of the game with a double into left field. Shortstop Celia Echave also whacked a double as five runs crossed the plate and the batters loaded the bases. Pitcher Diane Duda grabbed a pop fly for the third out to make the score six to two.

The Dixie Fried Chicken girls had a field night in the next two innings, separating four fly balls for six consecutive outs while they loaded up the bases and pushed two more runs in to lead by six after four innings of play.

'Twas then the Duda girls rallied as left-hander Silvia Rodriguez made it to first on an error and scored the first of the seven runs to follow, with the batters slamming eight successive base hits. Cindy Gummers made a double and Diane Duda hit a three-bagger to keep the rally going. Duda's was the winning run, Sherry Miller being credited with the run batted in. The victory boosted A. Duda & Sons' record to 3 wins, 5 losses.

In the other game that night, Wallis Pharmacy downed Glades Sugar to keep sole possession of first place in the league standings with an eight and 0 record.

Wallis, the visiting team took a two-run edge in the first inning when Barbara Morgan and Barbara Hartzog rounded the bases, Hartzog getting a two-base hit in the process. Both teams fielded excellently in the second inning with no scoring allowed for either team. Glades Sugar got a double play when shortstop Donna Jean Garst stabbed a line drive and threw to first base for the other out.

No runner could get past first base in the third inning as each team played top-notch defensive ball but then bedlam broke loose in the fourth inning and eight runs crossed homeplate. Annette Davis whacked a double into left centerfield, driving in two of the runs. The scoring was temporarily halted as the third baseman and left fielder caught fly balls for two outs and then Rhonni Ous, Frances McLeod and Annette Davis got their second run of the inning before the third out was made.

Donna Garcia made Glades Sugar's only run of the game in the last inning for a final score of 13 to one. In Thursday's action at the Canal Point ball field, the first game found Glades Sugar dropping a heart-stopper as the Timesaver team, down six to two in the last inning, rallied for four runs to edge the Sugar girls eight to six.

Sara Rives wallowed a triple with bases loaded in the first inning for Glades Sugar's three runs of the inning as Shelley Goodbread, Donna Garcia, and Peggy Chavis scored. Catcher Loretta Pugh caught a foul for the third out with a runner on first. The Timesaver players pushed two runs across the plate in the bottom of the inning when Judy Abner and Celia Sullivan came in.

The second inning was a standoff with neither team getting a runner to third base. The Glades Sugar girls widened the lead by two in the third inning when Shelley Goodbread and Peggy Chavis came in. Gail Exum added another run in the fourth inning to make it six to two. It was another standoff in the fifth inning and then in the sixth, Timesaver started hitting and running.

Judy Abner led off with a hit and was safe on first due to an error. Mary Lou Stevens and Celia Sullivan followed suit as the Glades

Sugar fielders committed four straight errors and all three runners scored to pull up on Glades Sugar, six to five, after six complete innings.

The Timesaver players held Glades Sugar to three outs with four batters, and then loaded the bases and moved ahead for the victory when Mary Lou Stevens wallowed a three-base hit to clear the bases and win the game, eight to six.

Attention! Attention! Attention! Choir #3 of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church, Rev. Charles Robinson Pastor, on the corner of S.W. 10th Street and S.W. Ave. C is looking for a choir to sing at the morning service will be the Rev. Elnor Soyette, Pastor of Baptist Church and his youth choir, all of Nassau, Bahamas.

If you miss this program you will miss some good singing. Their director was a former member of the Mt. Zion Church - Freeman McPhee.

We are also inviting the young people of this city to welcome them here that they may enjoy their short stay with us.

Approximately 50 to 60 young people and 10 men will arrive here on Friday evening and choir #3 has planned a welcome for them Saturday night.

Sunday morning they will have an early breakfast and will be taken to Disney World to spend the day.

Sunday morning they will show their appreciation by singing out their soul to the congregation. They will leave Sunday evening to go back and I am sure that the Belle Glade people will make them welcome.

I will say "Happy Birthday" to my grandson Adrain Vereen, Jr. of Phenix City, Ala. He is 2 years old. Happy Birthday also goes to his grandpa Levan Vereen of Belle Glade.

Culpepper announces for U.S. Senate

Robert F. (Bobby) Culpepper of Jupiter, a Palm Beach County Commissioner for eight years, has filed as a candidate for the 10th Congressional District. He is a Democrat.

Culpepper, 44, has served on the County Commission since 1968, twice as chairman. He is seeking the Congressional seat now held by L. A. (Skip) Bafalis, a former Palm Beach resident who now calls Bafalis, a former Palm Beach resident who now calls Fort Myers his home. Bafalis is a Republican.

Culpepper is a native of Florida, born in Lake Park and reared in West Palm Beach. He is a former mayor of Jupiter, a municipality in the northern section of Palm Beach County and part of the 10th Congressional District.

He served with the U.S. Army during the Korean War and is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion. He was employed with Southern Bell 21 years, prior to his election as county commissioner.

Culpepper mailed his filing papers, as a candidate for Congress, on Friday (July 9) to the Secretary of State's office in Tallahassee.

Christian Education Congress to be held this week

The Christian Education Congress, according to Rev. C. Brown, is being held this week.

The St. Paul A.M.E. Church of Jacksonville is hosting the Annual African Methodist Episcopal Church Fri.-State Convention July 19-25, 1976. With our newly elected Bishop, The Rt. Rev. S. S. Morris, Presiding.

This is an Education Convention where each department of the Church takes part. The Convention opened Monday with the keynote message being brought by Bishop S. S. Morris.

During the day each department will be in a workshop where the training session will be carried out. On each day at 12:00 noon will be the hour of Power where one of the ministers will bring the message.

Wednesday evening at 7:30 the youth will be in charge of the service with Willie Brown presiding.

Theme: Dimensions of the Liberating Christianity. Bringing the message will be the Reverend John Bryant, Pastor of St. John A.M.E. Church of Baltimore, Md.

The Rev. Bryant brought the youth sermon at last year's convention and received a standing ovation. He was asked to return again this year by the young people.

Robert Fennell of Tallahassee will be on the organ and will be in charge of the Congress Choir.

"BEON" is a new type of helicopter pilot. The men who fly military helicopters are uniquely qualified to accomplish their mission. Ask a rotary wing pilot his philosophy and the chances are he'll answer, "It's about 95 percent knowledge and 5 percent feel." That philosophy could also apply to the people who design military helicopters.

Take durability under combat conditions, for example. The engineers who worked on the new Sikorsky Utility Tactical Transport Aircraft System (UTTAS) wanted to design a helicopter which could effectively withstand damage.

Sikorsky conducted over 100 ballistics tests against the UTTAS. The results showed that the UTTAS main rotor blades made of every material tested were able to withstand high explosive impact. The Sikorsky helicopter rotor blades then for blades of other materials. These tests also demonstrated the titanium blade's superior capability to withstand high explosive impact. The Sikorsky helicopter rotor blades then for blades of other materials. These tests also demonstrated the titanium blade's superior capability to withstand high explosive impact.

Helicopter pilots—certainly unsung American heroes—are gaining extra protection through such scientific advances in plane design.

Revival scheduled to start July 26 at New Bethel Baptist

Reverend George Edward Weaver, Evangelist, will be conducting a revival July 26-30, 1976 at the Bethel Baptist Church in Okeechobee, Fla. Reverend Leon Camel is the pastor of that church.

Reverend Weaver, a native of Aiken, S.C., is a graduate of Falmouth College in Augusta, Ga. and has done additional study through S.C. State College, Atlanta University and Gammon Theological Seminary. He is presently the pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

As pastor for twelve years in Hendersonville, N.C., Weaver was instrumental in many social reforms, one being the initiation of the movement that led to the peaceful and harmonious integration of the public schools of Henderson County, N.C.

Since coming to Ft.

Lauderdale in 1962, he has twice been named Citizen of the Year, once by The Zeta Phi Beta Sorority and again by the Fort Lauderdale Awards Committee, and has been honored with certificates and awards by numerous other civic and religious groups.

He served as first chairman of a Bilingual Committee appointed by the Federal Courts to oversee the integration of the Public Schools of Broward Co., Fla.

It was through the efforts of Rev. Weaver, that the Greater Ft. Lauderdale Ministerial Association was integrated and he served as its first black president.

Rev. Weaver now serves on the Board of Directors of one of the largest banking institutions in the state of Florida and is highly respected by the community.

Senator Lewis announces for re-election

State Senator Philip D. Lewis (Democrat) announced he will seek reelection to district 27, which encompasses Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Hendry, and Lee Counties. In making his announcement, Lewis said a man who serves in office for 8 years is compelled to run on his record.

Senator Lewis has been active in the consumer area and was the prime sponsor of the 1975 act which established the condominium commission. People who have problems with the Condo Law can appeal to this commission for relief.

Lewis is also well known for his active role in pursuing the construction of 195 through Palm Beach County. This segment of the interstate was completed and opened on July 3rd, allowing motorists to travel southward from Palm Beach Gardens directly to Miami. He said he will continue his efforts to seek an early date for the start of construction of 195 northward.

The Florida Senate Leadership recognized Lewis' diversified background and placed him on some of the most powerful leadership committees in the senate. He is vice-chairman of the rules and calendar committee, member of the ways and means committee, vice-chairman and past president of the Joint Administrative Procedures Committee. He was also chairman of the select committee on property rights and land acquisition as well as a member of other senate committees.

When Lewis was chairman of the natural resources committee, the senate president gave him the very difficult job of re-organizing the complex environmental agencies, which had grown so large that it was very difficult to cope with. This task was completed by streamlining the system with less people as well as protecting the environment.

Another area of protecting the environment was Lewis' success in his campaign to insure water management for the state of Florida for 2 years, which was passed in the March 9th, millage election.

He feels that this was the most important matter in his career. District 27 has one of the largest agriculture areas in the state and Senator Lewis has served on the Senate Agriculture Committee for the past 6 years. He served as chairman for 2 years and vice-chairman for 2 years.

After the 75 session, Lewis was made chairman of the Education Committee, which position he holds today. "Education remains a top priority," Lewis said, "and we must begin to examine our total educational program as it relates to the quality of education as well as educational financing. More emphasis must also be put on the basic skills in the early grades." Senator Lewis is in the real estate investment business, married, and the father of 9 children.

FARM FRONT

by Doyle Conner, Commissioner

New federal beef grading standards have been in effect a few months, and it is quite probable that the average shopper has not detected any difference in the quality of beef at the supermarket. If that is true, the proponents of the new system have made their point.

The whole idea behind the revisions was streamlined efficiency in beef production and marketing that should, in time, save money for both the cattle producer and the consumer. By the same token, consumers should be getting beef as tender and flavorful as before the changes went into effect in late February.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has estimated that some $2 billion a year is spent needlessly to produce, ship and trim off excess fat from beef carcasses. The new system's aim is to eliminate this waste, while still delivering a top quality product. The revision makes it possible for slightly leaner beef to qualify for the Prime and Choice grades.

The final judgment of whether the mean sold as good as ever will be the beef eaters of America. If their reaction is anything like that of a taste panel, the new standards are off to a running start.

The taste tests were made at Kansas State University by people engaged in meat science or meat processing. The primary objective of the tests was not to rate beef under the old and new grades but the experiment was set up in such a way that differences in palatability of beef graded under the two systems could now be measured.

Reporting on the results, the Agricultural Research Service and the Economic Research Service concluded that there was no appreciable difference in tenderness or overall acceptability between steaks graded Choice by the old standards and those graded Choice by the new standards. Thus, consumers buying Choice grade beef will not detect any lower quality.

When all is said and done, the beef industry itself will determine the final impact of the grading changes on the marketing system and thus on the consumers. From cattle industry's standpoint, the new grading standards will encourage production of meaty livestock that can be raised and marketed more efficiently than in the past.

McPherson College is a four-year liberal arts and vocational training institution associated with the Church of the Brethren.

Sugar

The Western European drought is taking the main spotlight insofar as world sugar prices are concerned. The statistical balance appears to be getting tighter and the large increase in open interest to over 52,000 contracts signifies large participation with concomitantly volatile price action. With world sugar production for 1975-76 estimated at 82 million metric tons raw value and consumption at 80.81 million, one can envision that even a slight reduction in production, only about 20 million tons enters world trade, about 15.5 million tons on the free market and the remainder under agreements between countries. Thus, though 82 million tons are predicted, less than 79 million will be a more realistic figure if EEC countries' production is affected. Only 15.5 million is traded in the free world market and prices are accordingly very sensitive. Based upon the possibility that weather will curtail production and reduce world stocks next year we would be buyers of March 1977 sugar in 14.25-14.45 range with stops below 12.82, the contract, lows.

Orange Juice

The long awaited announcement of the Florida Canners Association set the upward adjustment of inventories on bulk concentrate at 4,270,089 gallons, near the upper end of the previously estimated range of two to five million gallons. Of this quantity, 439,580 gallons occurred during the current season, and 3,830,409 gallons were an adjustment for prior seasons. As a result of the latter figure, the carryover of 11/19/75 was revised upward to 51,226,384 gallons. (Caution is indicated in using statistics of the Florida Canners Association heretofore, as these figures will not include data from non-members of the Association, which at times could be of considerable importance.)

A potentially adverse near term market factor is concern that the USDA may increase its July 12 estimate of Valencia oranges from the previous month's projection. On the other hand, the spill-over effect of rampant bullishness in many other futures markets has brought some stability to FCOJ futures prices.

Soybean Complex

The soybean complex showed continued strength as beans challenged contract highs and oil achieved new highs. The USSR purchase of 2.0 million tons exceeded most earlier expectations and amounts to almost 5% of the expected 1976 U.S. crop. Of the total amount, US$480,000,000 approximately 1.5 million tons or 55 million bushels to be supplied by the U.S. out of its 1976 crop and the balance to be supplied from some other origin - most probably Brazil. Cumulative soybean exports for the season to date total 507 million vs. 354 million last season. Strong meat and oil demand, drought conditions in Western Europe and the strong background factor of a possibly reduced U.S. crop due to weather changes augur for the maintenance of this dynamic bull market. We thus continue with our long standing bullish opinion dating back to the 490/496 level in November and reinforced again recently in the 6.30 level, and feel that well entrenched traders can afford to sit back and endure any technical reactions that may occur this week, although at this writing it appears that additional strength rather than technical weakness is likely to prevail.

You have til Saturday to register

The Glades Office Building will be open for voter registration from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Saturday, July 24th, the last day to register for the primaries.

All registered voters who have not voted in the past two years should check with the Supervisor of Elections Office.

"Those who have not applied for reinstatement prior to the closing of the books will not be allowed to vote on election day. People registering after the 24th will not be allowed to vote in the primaries but they can vote in the presidential election.

The Glades Office Building has information on hand about election registration procedures.

The three other court house locations in Palm Beach County (South County Complex in Delray Beach, North County Complex and 810 Datura Street) will also be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on July 24th.

In addition, the main office at 810 Datura Street will be open until midnight on Friday, July 23rd, as part of a statewide effort by the Florida Supervisors of Elections to offer everyone a chance to register and encourage a large turnout of voters in this biennial election. All those not registered are urged to do so at once.

Health Center to meet

The monthly meeting of the Glades Steering Committee of the Health Center at 300 West Canal St. in Belle Glade will meet at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the center.

Director Jean Cogar said the committee will be discussing the results of the recent membership survey and ideas for increasing membership and community participation.

"New" is the word at library

"Another 'new' has been added to the many things available at your Belle Glade Municipal Library. A sewing pattern exchange is available and works in the same manner as the paperback book exchange: bring one and take one, or five and five, etc. The beginning collection includes patterns for children and adults, and you may choose from approximately fifty. This is only a beginning. The library staff welcomes your contributions and, in time, this free pattern exchange may be as successful as the paperback book exchange which now numbers over 300 volumes. With a turnover of approximately 200 titles each month.

"Another 'new' will be a story hour for children, preschoolers through age 8. The first one will be held on Thursday, July 29, at 10:00 a.m. In addition to the stories, Lewis' new movie, suitable for this age group may be shown. Mothers are invited to bring their children to the story hour and, at the same time, borrow some of the new fiction books for summer reading pleasure.

"Eternal vigilance is the Price of Liberty"

Money
Vesbber's American Dictionary defines money as gold, silver, or other metals coined and issued by a government as a medium of exchange.
Question:
Exchange for what? Working or not working, producing or not producing. Some say, somehow, this wealth must be created by the people so the government can coin the medium of exchange.
The AMERICAN way to create is founded in one word—
WORK
Look:
Take a good hard look at this tree. What is its real meaning to us as Americans who like to look to the future?
All trees obtain growth from their roots in the earth, but look and think, this tree's roots have spread all over America into the pockets of every hard-working American. TAXES are the fertilizer.
Only PEOPLE can stop its growth. SUPPORT AMERICA!

Our previous heritage embodied in the flag of the United States, as an alive today as it was when written for the sake of the future of independence, and the desire to stand for all the world to see and for all Americans to cherish. And in the tradition of Washington, Jefferson, and Hamilton, we stand for a right and a duty. While we may disagree as to the methods, we should not disagree as to the goal—that preserving the greatest, democratic society the world has ever known.
Our flag is a symbol, not of sentiment, but of history; the history of men and women willing to live and die for it. Happy the man who will not let his brother die in vain for the sake of the flag that he lives on—more because he is an American.
